

Procedures being in force for publishing process in „Annuals of Civil Engineering”

Rules of submitting articles

- Authors submitting articles do not bear the costs related with their reviewing and publication of the texts.
- Only scientific works can be submitted to the publishing house that are original, never before published and meet the ethical standards accepted in the scientific community.
- The submitted article should correspond to the profile of the Annuals, ie. it must relate to scientific issues of civil engineering.
- Article submission to the Annuals of Civil Engineering is synonymous with acceptance of the authors of the article with the rules and procedures that are valid in the publishing process of the Annuals and which are described on the journal's website www.kib-pan.katowice.po.opole.pl .
- Submitting article to the Annuals is also synonymous with the consent of the authors of the article to its free publication in the Annuals and on the journal's website in case, if the work is positively reviewed by the experts and editors of the journal.
- The article should be written in Polish, Czech, Slovak or English and must be written in accordance with the template published on the journal's website.
- The editorial board reserves the right to make linguistic corrections in the text of the article reported.

Reviewing procedure

Description of the reviewing process for scientific articles is placed on the bookmark of the journal's website „Reviewing procedure”.